

L'Arche USA Role Description

Director of Development

Portland, Oregon

At the heart of L'Arche are people of all abilities, who build relationships of mutual respect and friendship in which the value of each person is celebrated, and difference is welcomed. To learn more about L'Arche and its people, watch one of these videos.

L'ARCHE: NOUN, FRENCH
1. A COMMUNITY FOR PEOPLE WITH
& WITHOUT DISABILITIES
2. THE ARK.

Headquartered in Portland, Oregon, L'Arche USA (www.larcheusa.org) is the umbrella organization for 17 L'Arche communities across the United States, and is itself a member of L'Arche International. L'Arche USA has a $2.6 million budget and a growing team of 14 people who: support and liaise with the communities in the U.S., further the development of our 1000+ members of all abilities, and engage with the general public. Our programs are supported by a small administrative and a growing development team.

L'ARCHE IS FRENCH
French is the language of love.
L'Arche was founded in France
by Jean Vanier 50+ years ago.

IT RHYMES WITH "MARSH"
Just a coincidence, don't think about it too much.

In 2019, L'Arche USA's development activities will be shifted to the L'Arche USA Foundation, a Type 1 supporting organization to L'Arche USA. The Development Director will then move into the role of Executive Director of the L'Arche USA Foundation, accountable to the L'Arche USA Foundation Board of Directors and the L'Arche USA Executive Director.

IT MEANS "THE ARK"
Now the boat logo makes sense!

A PLACE OF REFUGE
Like an ark, L'Arche is a place of refuge for those who recognize their vulnerability (and really, that's all of us at some point, right?)

Role Summary: The Director of Development for L'Arche USA will advance fundraising efforts for L'Arche USA's operations and L'Arche International and will support fundraising capacity-building in local L'Arche communities.

The Director will lead L'Arche's fundraising in the U.S. by engaging current donors and prioritizing the development of new financial partners. L'Arche USA has identified an initial need of $5.7M in funding over the next three years. It is the Director's responsibility to advance the effort to secure philanthropic funding at a level never seen before by L'Arche in the U.S.

This is a senior management position for an experienced leader. Managing a team of four development staff and working closely with our communications and program teams, the Director of Development will set and implement an expansive vision for L'Arche's philanthropy in the United States.

Candidate profile: The Director balances their capacity for vision with an ability to execute, and get things done. The future Director is passionate about L'Arche's mission and possibilities. Ideally, this person knows L'Arche and might be known by L'Arche. An effective communicator and storyteller, both in person and in writing, the ideal candidate has a significant experience in the design and management of fundraising operations as well as in direct relationship with major donors and prospects. Above all, this person has excellent listening and critical thinking skills - they can hear what's really being said, and connect the dots between disparate things. With experience in leading teams and developing streamlined fundraising strategies, this Director has strong leadership skills rooted in collaborative processes.

Responsibilities: The Director of Development and future Director of the L'Arche USA Foundation is responsible for establishing the vision and steering the implementation of a development strategy, which includes major gifts, grants, direct mail, and online campaigns. This person will develop and steward strong relationships with individuals, major national foundations and vendors in order to close significant philanthropic investments to advance L'Arche's mission. This position will oversee prospect identification, research, and strategy, grant writing and reporting and will coach on and hold a portfolio of prospect relationships from visit to ask.

Accountable to the L'Arche USA Foundation Board (when established) and the Executive Director of L'Arche USA, the Director will:

- Develop and implement the philanthropic strategy for L'Arche USA's fundraising efforts;
- Lead and coach a team of four, and collaborate closely with L'Arche USA's communications team;
- Build and manage a portfolio of L'Arche USA's major gift prospects;
- Be an active contributor to L'Arche USA's leadership team;
- Work with current volunteer L'Arche champions and recruit new champions, incl. the members of the L'Arche USA Foundation Board, to build the fundraising program;
- Collaborate as appropriate with L'Arche community leaders and their teams to maximize major gift prospect relationships residing in communities;
- Liaise with other development directors within the Federation to coordinate global fundraising efforts.

This position is based in Portland, Oregon and requires frequent regional and national travel.
